

Mina KOBAYASHI

Mina Kobayashi is an attorney-at-law admitted in Japan and New York and works at Koga & Partners Law Office in Tokyo. She specializes in the business and human rights advising on human rights policy, human rights due diligence, and stakeholder engagement to companies based on expertise in international human rights and international sustainable development and experiences of a wide range of legal services provided to various companies.

She is a member of the Committee on International Human Rights, the Business & Human Rights Project Team, and the Committee on National Human Rights Institution at the Japan Federation of Bar Associations (JFBA). She is focusing on especially awareness-raising and capacity building on business and human rights in society through publications and seminars at JFBA.